Our President's New Book

Our dynamic and multi-talented president, Craig Martin, is always up to something exciting! In addition to leading our organization, Craig serves on various local boards, is a published author, co-hosts the long-running PBS show "The Good Road," and co-owns a record label. We are always excited to see what he is up to next and he never disappoints. Recently, Craig launched the first book in a trilogy about Artificial Intelligence, exploring its impact on the soul, the intellect, and the physical body. You can find this thought-provoking book on Amazon.
